USA

Effective January 26, 2021, all international arrivals to the U.S., including U.S. citizens, will be required to present a negative COVID-19 test ( acceptable tests - RT-PCR, Rapid, Antigen ) taken within 72 hours prior to departure to the U.S. or documentation that they had the infection in the past and have recovered. (No longer than 90 days or shorter than 10 days ). Additionally, every passenger 2 years of age or older must also submit a passenger disclosure and attestation to the United States of America form duly filled and signed at the time of Check-in. A parent or other authorized individual may attest on behalf of a passenger aged 2 to 17 years.

Appended is a link to the CDC page which also includes the attestation form.

Canada

New Mandatory Travel Requirements by the Government of Canada

Travelling or returning to Canada?

As of November 21, 2020, it is mandatory for all travelers flying to Canada to submit information via ArriveCAN before they board their flight. ArriveCAN is available as a mobile app or by signing in online.

For more information and answers to frequently asked questions, visit Canada.ca/ArriveCAN

All travelers arriving in Canada (unless otherwise exempt) are required to present a negative COVID-19 PCR test certificate prior to boarding a flight (taken within 72 hours prior to the travelers scheduled departure to Canada) and to take a COVID-19 tests upon arrival before leaving the airport.

Travelers will need to complete a mandatory quarantine of up to three nights in a government approved accommodation at their expense until they receive the test results;

- Anyone with a positive result on their arrival test will be relocated to a designated quarantine facility for 14 days.
- Anyone with a negative result on their arrival will have to complete the remainder of the 14-day quarantine measure at their place of residence or hotel.
